Imran Khan claims his party to spring 'surprise' on Febuary 8

ISLAMABAD : (AGENCY)

With just three weeks to go for the general elections in Pakistan, jailed former prime minister Imran Khan has said his party will spring a surprise on February 8 through its 'Plan C', which, he said, is ready after the failure of its so-called 'Plan A' and 'Plan B'. Founder of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party, Khan, 71, has been languishing in jail in connection with multiple cases. His party has been denied the cricket bat symbol that had become synonymous with the former international cricketer. Pakistan's election commission has rejected his and his party leaders' nomination papers. Despite a protracted crackdown on his political party, a buoyant Khan made claims about the surprise 'Plan C' while speaking to reporters at the Adiala Jail in Rawalpindi. The reporters had gathered to cover the proceedings of cases, including the cipher case, underway against him in prison on Tuesday. Dawn newspaper reported on Wednesday. Khan, however, did not elaborate on what he meant by Plan C. But a day earlier, PTI chairman Gohar Ali Khan said that "the said plan revolved around retaining the reserved seats of the party following the loss of their electoral symbol, 'bat', Dawn said. It said, 'Plan B' was ostensibly a deal the PTI had signed with its splinter group, 'PTI-Nazriati', to contest polls under the 'batsman' symbol, which was thwarted by the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP). On Tuesday, Khan also demanded a live telecast of his jail trial "to let the nation understand what is happening in the court," The News International newspaper reported. The PTI founder said that the party leadership knew that conspirators would spoil their plans, therefore, they had worked out alternative strategies. Khan claimed that a conspiracy was hatched against the PTI government, adding that about 10,000 workers of the party were put behind bars and efforts to dismantle the political party were also in full swing. He said that as the founder of the PTI, whose political struggle spanned over 27 years, he was facing multiple charges along with his spouse Bushra Bibi. Khan also talked about the cipher issue, saying former army chief Qamar Javed Bajwa offered him a two-thirds majority to keep quiet on the cipher issue and warned him of consequences if he tried to highlight the issue in public, the report said. The former prime minister said that Gen Bajwa had made the offer during meetings held at the President's House, provided he (Imran) would 'behave sensibly and would not underscore the cipher issue'. Khan further claimed that his party was being targeted over May 9 violence and further alleged that the violent protests targeting the Corps Commander House and the GHQ of the Pakistan Army were a part of the 'London agreement'. "Khan denied that the PTI was not behind this mess," the Dawn report said. Khan and hundreds of his party colleagues are being tried under multiple cases, including one under the stringent Official Secrets Act in connection with the May 9 violent protests by his supporters that damaged.

SEOUL : (AGENCY)

The United States, South Korea and Japan conducted combined naval exercises involving an American aircraft carrier in their latest show of strength against nuclear-armed North Korea, South Korea's military said on Wednesday, as the three countries' senior diplomats were to meet in Seoul to discuss the deepening standoff with Pyongyang. The training in waters off South Korea's Jeju island came as North Korean leader Kim Jong Un continues a provocative run in weapons testing and threats that has raised regional tensions to their highest point in years.

At Pyongyang's rubber-stamp parliament this week, Kim declared that North Korea would abandon its long-standing commitment to a peaceful unification with South Korea and ordered a rewriting of North's constitution to eliminate the idea of a shared statehood between the war-divided countries.

His speech on Monday came a day after the North conducted its first ballistic test of 2024, which state-media described as a new solid-fuel intermediate range missile tipped with a hypersonic warhead, reflecting its push to advance its lineup of weapons targeting US military bases in Guam and Japan. South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff said the trilateral naval drills, which completed its three-day programme on Wednesday, involved nine warships from the countries, including US aircraft carrier Carl Vinson and Aegis destroyers from South Korea and Japan. The exercise was aimed at sharpening the countries' combined deterrence and response capabilities against.

Donald sex abuse accuser E Jean Carroll set to testify in defamation trial over his denials

NEW YORK : (AGENCY)

Less than a year after convincing a jury that former President Donald Trump sexually abused her decades ago, writer E. Jean Carroll is set to take the stand again to describe how his verbal attacks affected her after she came forward. Carroll is due to testify on Wednesday in the second federal civil trial over her claims against Trump, who denies them all. Because the first jury found that Trump sexually abused Carroll in the 1990s and then defamed her in 2022, the new trial concerns only how much more — if anything — he'll be ordered to pay her for some other remarks. He made them while he was president. Trump, who is juggling court appearances with campaign stops as he leads the Republican field in this year's presidential race, sat in on jury selection on Tuesday. Before opening statements began, he left for a New Hampshire rally. He declared on social media on Tuesday that the case was nothing but "fabricated lies and political shenanigans" that had garnered his accuser money and fame. "I am the only one injured by this attempted EXTORTION," read a post on his Truth Social platform. But Carroll, an advice columnist and magazine writer, has said that Trump harmed her deeply. First, she claims, he forced himself on her in a dressing room after a chance meeting at a luxury department store in 1996. Then he publicly impugned her honesty, her motives and even her sanity after she told the story publicly in a 2019 memoir. "He called me a liar repeatedly, and it really has decimated my reputation. I am a journalist. The one thing I have to have is the trust of the readers," she testified in April at the first trial. "I am no longer believed." Carroll has maintained she lost millions of readers and her longtime gig at Elle magazine, where her "Ask E. Jean" advice column ran for over a quarter-century, because of her allegations and Trump's reaction to them. She has said her contract wasn't renewed for unrelated reasons. One of Carroll's lawyers, Shawn Crowley, said in her opening statement that the writer also received violent threats from Trump backers. Trump attorney Alina Habba countered that Carroll was seeking to hold the former president accountable for "a few mean tweets from Twitter trolls." He was "merely defending himself" in his comments about his accuser, Habba said in her opening. Trump asserts that nothing ever happened between him and Carroll, indeed that he has never even met her.

There's a 1987 party photo of them and their then-spouses, but Trump says it was a momentary greeting that "doesn't count." Trump did not attend the previous trial in the case last May, when a jury found he had sexually abused and defamed Carroll and awarded her USD 5 million in damages. The jury said, however, that Carroll hadn't proven her claim that Trump raped her. Carroll is now seeking USD 10 million in compensatory damages and millions more in punitive damages.
